

CANCER TREATMENT WITH SOUND FREQUENCY

APPROVED

The FDA has just approved the use of sound waves to break down tumors. A life changing treatment for liver cancer therapy.

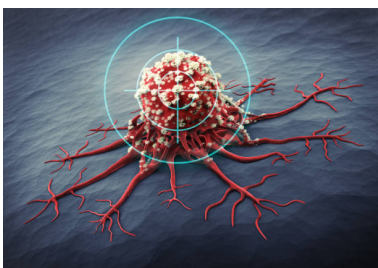

A trailblazing technique to welcome a life with less discomfort, advanced healing, and more hope...

RESONANT FREQUENCIES - CORRECTING CANCER CELL MUTATION

Frequency medicine is rooted in the concept that every cell, tissue, and organ emits specific frequencies. When these frequencies are disrupted, health issues emerge. Restoring balance can transform and harness the power of the frequencies.

Do you know can shift more cancer cells from malignant to benign state using resonant frequencies than using radiation.

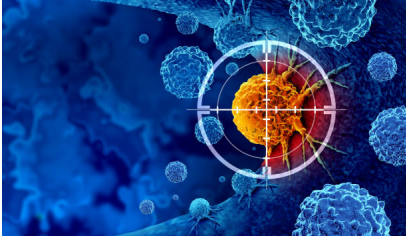

What is resonant frequency?

Resonant frequency is a natural frequency which, within a medium, vibrates at the highest amplitude (the higher the aptitude, the higher the energy).

So the formula I use to best describe the process is:

- Resonant frequency = what is transmitted/exposed to
- Medium = the recipient
- Highest amplitude = target destination and synchronization established, zero point field, imbalanced/unhealthy frequency and receiving resonant frequency nullified

Today, this vital field AO Scan technology can facilitate increased cellular energy, through voice analysis, multisync supportive affirmations, comprehensive body systems and musculoskeletal feedback or simulated tuning fork plains.

The purpose of AO Scan is to induce a resonant vibration in the living organism or cell and improve communication with coherent frequencies. These organisms are eventually shattered by the electronic signals.

When this principle is applied to microorganisms using bioenergetic frequency therapies (whether it be via sound, vibration, electromagnetic waves, etc..), one can induce a resonant frequency into a living organism, where one can eventually find, that with high tone frequencies, cancer cells become highly vulnerable and the deadly microorganisms are weakened, destroyed, and diminished.

Seems like there is cancer epidemic everywhere and cases continue to rise every year.

- Liver cancer
- Pancreatic cancer
- Leukemia
- Prostate
- And more....

Being exposed to resonant frequencies, cancer cells begin to disconnect and separate from one another instead of coming together and weaponizing - WHICH result in the opposite of tumor formation - and eventually disintegrating.

Frequency medicine is rooted in the concept the every cell, and organ emits specific frequencies. Inducing a resonant vibration in a malignant organism or cell takes repeated effort in order to shatter their communication signals with one another.

Take Leukemia, for example.

Leukemia cell #1 tries to grow a copy of itself (multiply), but the new cell is shattered into dozens of fragments and scatters.

Leukemia cell #2, then hyper-inflates and also dies

Leukemia cell #3 then tries to make another cancer cell

At every point of multiplying attempt, the new cell is shattered and the original cell dies
